Divisions Attack Nazis

Offensive Opened on Wide Front

By The Canadian Press

The Russians were reported today to have opened the offensive on a wide front, attacking the German armor and infantry divisions, perhaps 1,500,000 men, into a great offensive on the southern front stretching from Taganrog on the Sea of Azov up to the vicinity of Kharkov in the upper Ukraine.

Simultaneously, they were heavily attacking in the Great sector, some 50 miles above Kharkov and 300 miles south of Moscow, and about 100 miles from the area where the German 16th army is encircled below Leningrad.

Marshal Semion Timoshenko was said to be employing upwards of 20 armored divisions in the offensive in the great southern push, aimed at driving the Nazis back across the Dnieper river along a line from Dnepropetrovsk south to the Black Sea.

The early annihilation of this force, before the Germans are in a mass sufficient relief troops to the south and west of Lake Ilmen, was believed by qualified London analysts to be essential part of the Soviet strategy.

Cleanup in that sector would free two or three Russian army corps—sufficient, probably, to give the Red army a heavy superiority in man power for a quick thrust southward toward the Baltic.

Such an operation would open the flank and rear of all the German armies besieging Leningrad and holding the Volok-Lake Ladoga line.

Army Training Centre Planned At Wetaskiwin

Construction of a Basic Training Centre at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, providing for accommodation and training facilities for four companies or approximately 1,000 men, and providing for instructional staff of 100 personnel, has been authorized according to an announcement made Thursday at headquarters of Military District 13.

The total cost of the project will be approximately $600,000. The location of the new training centre is within the city limits of Wetaskiwin.

The acreage involved is 108 acres, of which 36 acres will be utilized by the buildings and parade ground, and another 20 acres located just one block away will be for training purposes.

This will be the third Basic Training Centre to be established in Alberta; the other two being located at Camrose and Grande Prairie.

- At least four possible, or rather probable, new Axis offensives seem in the offing while Allied strategy still is confined to belated realization that "defense will not win this war." The enemy accord may be expected to strike next:
- 1—Against Northern Australia from New Guinea and Timor.
  - 2—Against the Indian Ocean, at all hands of the Caucasus and Middle East.
  - 3—Against Allied shipping routes to Russia in the North Atlantic.
  - 4—Against the New canal and all lands of the Caucasus and Middle East.
- On the Allied side, the prospect of a new offensive on the new front is not apparent. The Russian offensive probably is near the end and may be slowed down.

Wavell, McNaughton Are Suggested For British Cabinet

LONDON, March 12—(CP)—Alec Cunningham-Reid, Conservative member for St. Marylebone, referring to the recent government recommendation as "a political option," asked in the House of Commons today why men such as Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell and A. G. L. McNaughton and other "stalwarts" had not been called into the government.

He said the entry of Sir Stafford Cripps was the only real change, with the old Baldwin-Chamberlain gang still hanging on to nearly half the office.

Fishermen's Patrol For Atlantic Urged

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—An Atlantic coast patrol of 600 to 800 armed fishing vessels to guard a safety lane two miles wide was urged today by a map of the Maritime Union (C.I.O.) as a means to guard commerce against Axis submarines.

Generous And Neglectful

CANADA'S magnificent and generous gift to the people of Great Britain of a thousand million dollars and her loan of seven hundred million dollars, without interest, for urgently needed food and munitions are two steps that have met with the unanimous approval of loyal Canadians everywhere in this fabulously rich Dominion of Canada.

The whole civilized world owes a tremendous debt to the valiant, courageous and steadfast people of Britain who stood between Hitler and his dream of world conquest after the tragic fall of France. They and they alone held firm at the critical hour.

Canadians are glad to be in a position to alleviate their embarrassment now.

The Canadian people have subscribed more than a thousand million dollars to the Second Victory Loan—truly a great achievement for a population of eleven and a half million people.

But in spite of these outstanding acts of national and individual generosity, Canada has neglected the one object which requires more generous treatment than any other.

Canadians lag behind every member of the British Commonwealth of Nations and behind the United States in providing social security and social justice for our own aged, distressed and worthy pioneers.

Canadians lag behind their neighbors in dealing with our farm debt, the millstone around the necks of those farmers who are engaged in the most basic of all industries in peace and in war.

Viewed in the light of these two latter considerations, Canada's generosity must appear very spotty indeed.

At this session of Parliament, we must add to our present Unemployment Insurance those further measures of Health Insurance and an adequate Retirement Allowance which will give at least $30 a month to our aged people at the age of 60—without the present cruel and unjust regulations.

The farmers require a price for their products that will give them a fair return for their work and investment. We guarantee our other war industries a profit of not less than five per cent with no limit on production costs. Food is just as essential as tanks, guns and planes.

Parliament must face these long neglected and vital issues in the same courageous way as our sister nations have done.

Nine years ago, President Roosevelt took the six million farmers of the United States out of bankruptcy and today the farmers of that country own their own farms and operate at reasonable profits—in fact, on a parity with all other industries.

These questions are issues that require the immediate attention of the Canadian Parliament. They require that same generous treatment as was accorded the problem of the people of Britain.

There is no question of money involved because the old methods of orthodox finance have disappeared in the necessities of war—and properly so.

These are matters that boldly challenge our Canadian generosity.

London Admits Australia Peril

By HELEN KIRKPATRICK

Copyright, 1942, by The Canadian Press and The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, March 12—The immensity and reality of the threat to Australia is admitted here for the first time. Until now India has been regarded as the next Japanese objective.

The belief that the Japanese would not spread themselves so widely by attempting to invade Australia is disappearing rapidly. The New Guinea landing is seen as support for Maj. Gen. Henry Gurney.

EXCLUSIVE

Dr. Gurney's warning that Australia will be invaded in a matter of days or weeks.

The London Times today says that the Japanese are "too great and too venturesome" to risk the time and money to invade Australia. It says that the Japanese have taken the Allies by surprise.

Aussies Put 13 Jap Ships Out Of Action

By BRYDON TAYLOR

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 12—(BUP)—American and Australian planes were reported today to have put out of action—at least temporarily—13 of the huge fleet of Japanese transport planes converging on New Guinea, jumping off point for the expected assault on Australia.

But Australian sources emphasized their belief that far harder blows must be inflicted if the Japanese are to be slowed or halted.

The immediate goal of the Japanese attack is Port Moresby, to Torres Strait off northeast Australia. There, the Japanese intend to land.

Tirpitz Fails To Get At British Convoy

LONDON, March 12—(CP)—The Stockholm correspondent of the News Chronicle reported today that the new German battleship Tirpitz, which put back into a Norwegian port after being attacked Monday by British torpedo-carrying planes, failed to get within 300 miles of her prospective prey—a convoy which now has reached Rangoon.

The admiralty communiqué Feb. 26, which announced the attack described the ship only as a "member of the Prinz Eugen class."

The News Chronicle's correspondent said many bodies were found floating in the cruiser's flooding compartments when she managed to reach port.

Full-Scale Raids Opened On Reich

By SYDNEY WILLIAMS

LONDON, March 12—(BUP)—Britain has launched a "full-scale" bombing offensive against German production, hammering Nazi industrial centres as heavily as the Luftwaffe ever bombed England. This operation came today direct from authoritative air circles in Britain.

A spokesman said "much evidence has been received to indicate that the R.A.F. had inflicted heavy damage in its raids. He said photographic taken from reconnaissance planes showed that the German battleship Goeben, in drydock at Kiel, had suffered considerable damage."

The damage was said to include a large hole in the vessel's deck near the bow. Several other ships, presumably across the ship was at Kiel, also were obvious.

HEAVY TON COVENTRY

They said recent British bombing of the German industrial plant of Coventry had been successful.

Nazi Tries To Escape In Plane

OSHAWA, Ont., March 12—(CP)—A daring attempt by an escaped Nazi prisoner-of-war to steal a plane of the Royal Canadian Air Force was foiled today with the capture of the German airman, one of two who escaped from the nearby Bowmanville prisoner-of-war camp last night.

Prisoner-of-war, caught by an instructor at No. 15 Elementary Flying Training School, three miles northwest of Oshawa, he was about to take down a flying suit. About an hour earlier, the second of the two prisoners, Edward Fidler, surrendered at a farmhouse on the eastern outskirts of the city.

Oscar told his captor, identified as Bowman, that he intended to steal one of the planes on the field and fly it to an isolated spot in the United States. Bowman came on the German while he was reaching for a flying suit in one of the hangars on the field.

I made a good try, and I lost. Oscar said when he placed under guard.

Officials at the airport said Oscar apparently crept on to the flying field headquarters and stayed hidden until he believed the field was clear. Then he tried to get a flying suit before attempting to get away in the plane.

Quiet In Libya

CAIRO, March 12—(AP)—A two-sentence British army communiqué reported today only patrol activity and fighter-plane operations on the Libyan battle front.

For the last 15 years, the colorful north country of fiction, poetry and moviemaking has been fading out. Plains, big mining developments, radio and already improving boat services have modernized the north. The new Alaska highway will punch through what is just about the last isolated areas of major extent.

Years ago I used to cover the "northland beat" here. Wild animal stories were among the yarn I had to try to pry out of the trappers, traders and prospectors who came in from the hinterlands. Some homey came to light, but I never imagined the time would come when I would write the story of a timber wolf being killed by a taxi in the wilderness around Yellowknife, on Great Slave Lake, over 600 air miles north of Edmonton.

That strikes me as the final act in the passing of that picturesque old north country—a sort of slapstick anti-climax. Jack Daniels of Yellowknife sent me the yarn after viewing the silent film of the wolf and talking to witnesses of this weird traffic fatality.

Here is the story: On Monday, March 2, Hec Demers of Yellowknife started with his 1940 model sedan taxi to go to the Ptarmigan mine camp about eight miles away over a winding road through the bush. After covering about two-thirds of the distance, he was aware of a sharp bend and there was a big timber wolf trotting along the trail in the same direction Demers was going.

Demers stepped hard on the gas, planning to chase the animal. The wolf apparently was deep in thought about his supper or love affairs and didn't hear the car.

"I was doing about 45 miles an hour and almost on top of the critter when he first heard me and whirled around," Demers relates. "We felt a bump and I put on the brakes. I looked back and there was the wolf stretched out on the road. We ran back and the wolf was as dead as a doornail. His neck was broken when the car hit him."

G. W. Thomsen, an old-timer at Yellowknife, was a passenger in this sub-Arctic taxi and backs up the story as the gospel truth.

New Worries For Wolf Mothers

HARD-BITTEN veterans of northern trap-lines, who relate timber wolves as one of the luckiest animals in the north to draw a rifle shot will undoubtedly be skeptical of this story. The explanation probably is that wolves around Yellowknife and other mining areas have become accustomed to the noise and smells of the modern machinery that has invaded their hunting grounds. They probably do not connect these noises and smells as always meaning that men are with them.

This traffic victim had probably watched Demers' taxi turning through the woods dozens of times and decided it was some strange critter that for some reason went back and forth along its nice wide trail and never bothered prowling through the woods in search of prey. Since it didn't hunt him, he didn't worry much about it.

Just the same, the maker of Demers' taxi (name on request in return for a bit of tinkering on any play) can certainly claim credit as the producer of one of the quietest motors ever built. Any car that can sneak up on a timber wolf as silent as a husband trying to slip past his wife's door at 4:00 a.m. in a sober but guilty frame of mind.

And this rings down the curtain on the wild northland of Curwood, London, Service and Hollywood. I'll never again be able to think of a timber wolf without wondering whether or not his mammy taught him to always look both ways before crossing a road.

Serious Charge Against Jackfish

HAVING got this far on outdoor stuff, I might as well finish today's column on the same.

The Jackfish of our western lakes and streams has never had many friends. He's a peaky fish full of bones, no fight and nothing much in the way of taste, but he has a lot of friends now.

Victor Salomon, fish biologist for the Dominion government, has been investigating to find out if these Jackfish actually are a menace to young wild ducks as has been claimed. After prying into thousands of Jackfish stomachs, his answer is "yes". In one Jackfish he caught on the Saskatchewan river delta last summer, he found the remains of four ducklings. He estimates that this fish would do the six-pup Jack about ten times.

Athletics Lose Nine Men To Uncle Sam's Big Team

By ROBERT MYERS

ANAHEIM, Calif., March 12—(AP)—The city of it all is that Mr. Connie Mack's team will have had a first division club for the first time since 1933.

It is lamentable to report, then, that the general feeling among the Philadelphia Athletics is that the honorable A's will make a determined fight to play out of the American League cellar for the third consecutive year.

Connie Mack lost the men who Uncle Sam's draft. At least three of them, slugging Sam Chapman, Mike Krukow and Al Brancato, were figured upon heavily in the Philadelphia plans this year. A fourth, Don Richmond, might have become a sensation, and that comes down to Mr. Mack himself.

GOOD LOOKING ROOKIES

On the good side of the ledger, the venerable, lovable Mr. Mack has a fine looking array of rookie pitchers.

The Athletics have a good catcher in Frank Hayes. He'll be even better if a knee operation does the trick expected.

The outfield, with Bob Johnson, Dick Mize and Mike Krukow, takes better than average—or over. Mize hit .312 last year, Johnson a disappointing .275, and Krukow, who hit .280 last year, is being bet on by the Chicago White Sox, batting .222. He's still a marvelous defensive player.

PROBABLE INFIELD

Dick Sobers will be back at first. Chick Davis will replace Mickey Vernon at second. Pete Suder probably will handle short and Louis Blair, a former New York Yankee prospect, will go at third if an injured knee holds up. He was with Newark in 1941.

There are fourteen pitchers in camp. The starters include Jack Knott, Herman Boone, Luman Harris, Les McCubb, Phil Marchetti and Bill Beckman.

Two rookies merit marked attention. One is Frank England, who was 16 and lost seven with Wilmington. The other is Russell Christopher, a right hander who duplicated Caligiuri's 167 pitching but did it with Newark in a far faster league, the International.

Approximately 75,000 acres are planned to be tilled in the United States at present.

World Champ's Quarters New Style Training Camp

By JACK GUENTHER

PORT DIX, N.J., March 12—(BUP)—In the course of their work sport writers see many strange things. Some of the strangest are fight camps—places like Lakewood or Madam Bey's or Pompton Lakes. They are peopled by odd characters and they are alternately hilarious and sombre or calm and noisy, depending on the personality of the boxer who is training.

They were so quiet that the entire scene seemed unreal—like a movie minus the sound track.

When Louie came out of the dressing room there was a M.P. on each side of him. He boxed four rounds with four different sparring mates and since he was 10 pounds overweight at 215 he was slow and his limit was poor. He hired hands looked left at him and hit him often than he hit them. By next week things will be different.

When the workout ended Joe punched the bag and then answered questions. He said he felt fine, that he hoped to weigh 260 for Simon and added: "I've to live because I'm fighting for a guy." He also seemed a bit miffed because he hadn't fought a sparring mate since March 25 he will work out five times a week and continue taking a life apart and putting it back together, mastering drill and playing photograph records in his leisure time—which totals about an hour. He will also pose for photographers, which is a great deal more of a job than you might think of.

As we left Joe he was tossed to the photographers for the third time in eight hours. It was now after 6 p.m. and a soldier turned to me and asked if Joe always had to pose so often. I said no, not until he joined the army. The soldier whistled and gymnasiums.

"I thought I'd a tough job," he said. "After watching him I'll just stick to my drilling. It looks easier to me."

Smokies Beaten 6-1 in Third Tilt

CALGARY, March 12—(CP)—Calgary Stampede, who played fine hockey all season to lead the A.B.C. Senior League and then carried the same play into the playoffs, today await the challenge of Lethbridge Maple Leafs whom they will meet for the league championship.

Stampede won the right to enter the finals last night when they blasted Trail Smoke Eaters 6-1 in the third game of their best-of-five series to take the round with three straight victories.

Maple Leafs won the other semi-final round after they had tied once and beaten Kimberley Dynamiters twice in a best-of-five affair. Dynamiters announced after the third game that they were withdrawing from further competition.

The Calgary-Trail series ran true to form with the league leaders routing the fourth place Smoke Eaters in rather easy fashion.

The final series between Calgary and Lethbridge is scheduled to be a best-of-seven round but dates for the games have not been announced yet.

Last night's victory for the Stampede may prove to be a costly one for Tony Demers, their goalie. Demers was injured in the second period, he crashed with Maurice Duffy of Smokies. Demers suffered a broken bone in his left hand. He was in hospital for many weeks last year with a clipped vertebra and missed all playoff games then.

The 2-6-8 Stampede got off to a 2-0 lead in the first period, run it to 4-1 in the second and then ran in two more corners in the final period when Smokies appeared to wither under the pressure.

Chuck Millman led his team to victory with two goals and played one of the finest games of his career. Other Calgarians who scored from the sticks of Doug Clavin, Pete Ellinger, Joe Shannon and Bill Owens.

Bivins Thumps Champ Lesnevich

CLEVELAND, March 12—(AP)—Jimmy Bivins gave Gus Lesnevich a slugging lesson last night with a decisive verdict over the light heavyweight champion in a 10-round non-title bout. The winner weighed 170 and Lesnevich 178. A quart of water in order to scale over the 175-pound limit, turned loose his artillery to knock the champion down briefly in the second round.

Bivins also bloodied Lesnevich's nose, and opened a wide cut under the leftcheek's right eye in the fourth as he captured six rounds, with one over and the other four going to Gus.

O.H.A. Reprimand Heeded By Oshawa

OSHAWA, March 12—(CP)—Oshawa General Motors hockey team began its season in the Ontario Hockey Association's best-of-five junior "A" final series Wednesday night with a 2-1 victory over Guelph Biltmores, but may have lost the services of starry Ken McNaught for a few days.

McNaught was crashed to the boards during the second period and did not return to the ice. His injuries were undetermined immediately.

Bill Mortimer, defenceman who performed with last year's Canadian junior champions, Winnipeg Rangers, scored two goals for Oshawa.

The Oshawa club, reprimanded by the O.H.A. for hitting and throwing by fans during the game with Brantford Saturday offered a reward last night to anyone informing rink authorities of any breach of conduct in the arena.

The reward was offered during a pre-game announcement that anyone throwing a missile to the ice during the game would be arrested and fined.

Miami Four Ball Goes To Outsiders

MIAMI, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Herman Keiser and Chandler Hager, a pair of outside golfers who got into the finals over the highest route, won the Miami-Biltmore international four-ball tournament Wednesday with a relentless display of birdies and pars. They bowled over Jack Groul and Ben Lovell 4 and 3 to win $1,000 apiece.

The winners built up a four-hole edge with a brilliant 64 on the morning 18 and a birdie in the 18th, then matched the best their opponents could get for 14 straight holes.

The first outsiders' ever to capture the four-ball, Hager and Keiser were 13 under par for the tournament.

The victors were the tournament's top scorers. On their way to the victory, Hager and Keiser bowled over Craig Wood and Billy Burke, Henry Ford and Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan and Gene Sarazen.

The latter pair had 1941 winners. Hager and Groul bowled over Lawson Little and Jimmy Darnett, Ray Laffoon and Johnny Revolta and Jimmy Hines and Willie Goggin.

LONDON, March 12.—(CP)—Viscount Hasekura Kano, former manager of the London branch of the Yokohama Specie Bank, has been detained under an internment order, it was announced Wednesday.

In an interview Tuesday Kano was quoted as charging the British government statement regarding internment at Hong Kong was propaganda, and that he didn't believe it.

Fifty-five years old, Kano was a director of the Bank of International Settlements and was working in a New York banking house.

So far the British government has made no general internment order for Japanese Nationals, but has dealt with cases on an individual basis.

Indian Ready To Recover Bike

All In Confusion: He's In Jail

By Crawling Under A Blanket

I Saw Today

GILBERT "GIMBY" GEE
Checking income tax files at the B.C. office.

AND

Ben Hager, dead in plans for the Federation of Indian Bands, was carried to be held shortly; Jack McCluskey, founder of the Federation, was also carried to be held shortly; and coming down in his special chair, the Civic block elevator, Frank Williams, entering Sons and Sons; Dave Davidson, enjoying a morning cup of coffee; Doug Nixon leaving a blue-line tram at 104 street.

Mr. Martin Hupp, Cree Indian brave, who invited a city detective to crawl in him under a blanket, while he was in the "heap big money" found him
"a heap of trouble" that day when he appeared before Magistrate Miller, in city police court, charged with the theft of a bicycle.

Bouting great mystic powers and requiring only a white blanket—along with a $5 bill just for added incentive, Hupp gallantly volunteered his services in the quest for a young city boy's bicycle which had disappeared, rather mysteriously, from in front of a drug store on 142 street, near 102 avenue.

LITTLE CONSIDERATION

It all started about 9 p.m. the other night when Hupp, originally informed the young city owner that someone had "zoomed off" on his bike while he was in the store, but that he possessing great "medicine making" powers would gladly crawl out its location, provided, of course, there was a little consideration, say five bucks.

So the young fellow called his dad, and the dad called the police, and Hupp went to the station, and he was around and prepared for the intricacies of the big medicine show.

The arrival of Detective A. J. Peterson and Kenny O'Brien factually ended the "show." The detectives, "He said I'm an Indian and he said I'm a detective," and you crawl under one end of the blanket and I'll crawl under the other end.

"I said, 'No thanks, nothing doing,' and took him to the police station."
Hupp's sister appeared for the defence and testified that she had watched the proceeding from across the street.

"Can your brother make medicine or magic?" inquired C. G. Purvis, C.C.F. member.

"No, I don't think so. I've never seen him," he chuckled.

After a short conversation, Hupp was released. The case was very confusing. The whole case for the accused concerned the blood processing plant of the Red Cross Society at an announcement by Elmer E. Roper, president of the Elmer
E. Roper.

Decision was made at a meeting held in the office of Dr. Robert Newson, acting president of the University, on Wednesday afternoon.
It was through the cooperation of the minister of health, Hon. Dr.
W. W. Cross, and Dr. Newson, that arrangements were made.

Technical supervision in the organization of the plant, and over its operation, will be provided by the department of biochemistry of the University and the provincial laboratory.

"Blood obtained from donors enrolled by the Red Cross Society will all be processed into plasma and shipped to the Connaught Laboratory in Toronto to be dried for shipment overseas." The facilities of the processing plant will be available to produce plasma to provide a much-needed emergency supply for Alberta itself," Mr.
Roper stated.

Attending the meeting were Dr.
Newson, Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of health; Dr. J. J. Ower, acting-director of the provincial laboratory and acting-dean of medicine at the university; Dr. G. Hume, head of the department of biochemistry; Dr. M. M. Cantor, of the same department, and Elmer E.
Roper, president of the Red Cross branch of the Red Cross Society.

Outline of the work of active service was given by the work of active service, in addition to relieving men for active service such as girls and women could not do in any case, the active service women could do much to provide a more home-like touch in their duties as cooks, waitresses, or in other posts.

Jack DeLong
The glowing tribute paid to the Edmonton's Grant McConachie in "Twenty-Four Hours to Ainslie," an article appearing in this week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post, is a fitting recognition of the efforts of a highly colorful young man. We can well remember a few years back when many of the older men in aviation circles looked upon Grant as a young fellow possessing a lot of nerve and brains.

He would go as far as to say that the old timers would shake their heads at a "see you at the funeral" attitude.

But Grant is a kid who learned the hard way.

Broken limbs in erebus brought him bouncing back more and more. The young man, who is appearing in the early flying days of Grant McConachie. His boyish enthusiasm, his sense of humor, his ability to get on with his work, his ability to get on with his work, his ability to get on with his work.

Modern Young Women Proving 'Invades Forbidden' Field

By FRANCIS MARTIN
He thought he made a dignified grandmother say, "This, lady, is what I have been waiting for." The fact of the matter, however, is that the modern young woman has won the equality-with-man that women have long been clamoring for, and what's more, she seems to be accepting her responsibility with unequalled satisfaction.

A cross-section of women's activities around the world, adequately prove the point, showing that they are taking over a tremendous variety of tasks previously the work of men. Lungeing, jumping, vaulting, drivers in artillery, football, drivers of taxicabs and police wagons, test and ferry pilots, are now referred to in the feminine gender.

It seems a far cry from the day when Mrs. Bloomer and her circle of emancipation-minded cohorts were looked upon as insufferable radicals, when no nice young lady would touch those "dreadful" bloomers made of tulle of sturdy serge, and no fringes were unacceptably booted for their feminist activities and other found, these things behind.

BOLDING THEIR OWN
Edmonton women are holding their own in the progress race, for they are to be found in the air-traffic control room, and acting as mechanics at the No. 2 A.O.S. and No. 16 P.T.S. (stable and police).
